President's Corner

As the current president, I would like to report to our members the progress NACMPA has made over the past half year. NACMPA continues to sponsor meetings in Asia-Pacific countries and regions. This year, I have represented NACMPA to attend the 8th PPRA RTOG (Pan-Pearl-River Area Radiation Therapy Group) annual meeting at ChangSha, Hunan, China from April 19 to 21, 2013. I also had an opportunity to meet with the high-ranking officers of the Chinese Health Department. They have also recognized the importance of the quality assurance (QA) program for Radiation Oncology equipment. We will continue working with them and provide our inputs on establishing the guidelines and polices within China.

Besides the on-going meetings, we also have broadened our scopes to participate in many trainings and seminars in China and Asia-Pacific regions, with our members' efforts to devote their knowledge, time and expertise to help improve the medical physics profession with our international colleagues. NACMPA has transformed itself into a new level, based on the milestones from all members' contribution. Now we have improved the tools of our website and it can be logged in from any web browsers. We are going to update our member's profile and using modern web tools to facilitate the communication among our members. We hope to continue this great tradition in coming years and to make the NACMPA a great society.

Welcome to our annual meeting!

Maria Chan

About NACMPA

The North American Chinese Medical Physicist Association (NACMPA) was founded in United States, 1995. The goals of NACMPA are:

- To promote interests in the field of physics in medicine and biology.
- To improve the practice of medical physics in its application to human health care.
- To provide a forum for scientific exchange and interactions for medical physicists in North America, China, Taiwan, Hong Kong and other Asian Oceanic Countries.
- To organize activities that promote scientific exchange of information in medical physics worldwide.

After 18 years of continuous grow, NACMPA became a truly international organization with 480 registered members, including 36 from outside the North America. Since 1995, NACMPA annually hosted a dinner meeting during the AAPM annual meeting. It became a great occasion for colleagues to get together, change ideas, and taste the best local Chinese food. With the increasing international recognition, NACMPA successfully hosted the first international conference for Chinese medical physicists around the world in Lijiang, China, 2011.

We can never go this far without the support from our members and the dedication of our officers. Here we would like to give our earnest appreciation to you. Meanwhile, we like to encourage and welcome more medical physicists, residents, and students to join our community. Please find the membership application form in the following page. We also listed the past NACMPA officers to honor their contribution to this society. Thank you!
