24th Annual Meeting of North American Chinese Medical Physicists Association (NACMPA)

Nashville, TN
Aug 1, 2018

Message from the President

Once again, NACMPA Executive Committee is in the process of planning our annual dinner meeting for all NACMPA members in Nashville, TN. The organization committee made up of NACMPA leadership and local NACMPA members have been actively working to finalize meeting venue, meeting program and to conduct fundraising for this event. As always, we are anticipating a highly enjoyable evening.

Similar to 2017, NACMPA will participate in the Chinese medical physics annual meeting organized by the Physics Group of Chinese Society of Radiation Oncology (CSTRO-PG). The meeting will be held in Fuzhou, China, during September 20-23, 2018. The NACMPA delegations, including both invited and proffered speakers, will present the latest developments in radiation oncology physics at the meeting. I anticipate that this meeting will facilitate strong scientific exchange and enhance communications, collaborations and friendship between members of CSTRO-PG and NACMPA. I encourage our NACMPA members to participate.

I would like to thank the members of Executive Committee for your high-quality service and our members for your support. I wish you all have lovely summer and look forward to seeing you in Nashville or Fuzhou.

Allen Li, Ph.D.
President, NACMPA
